

*Fernando Carreño, nominated as
"Lawyer of the Year - under 40"
by Global Competition Review (GCR)*

Dear friends and clients,

We are pleased to announce that Fernando Carreño, head of our antitrust practice has been nominated as "Lawyer of the year - under 40" by Global Competition Review (GCR), being the only Mexican lawyer that has been nominated to receive this award since it was launched.

Fernando share this recognition with the following lawyers: Margaret Segall D'Amico (Cravath Swaine & Moore), Creighton Macy (Baker McKenzie), Thomas Elkins (Linklaters), Jesse Solomon (Davis Polk), Yizhe Zhang (Jones Day), Meegan Hollywood (Robins Kaplan) and Elaine Ewing (Cleary Gottlieb Steen & Hamilton).

This worldwide nomination is granted by GCR to "a competition lawyer under the age of 40 whose superior technical skill, practical judgement and excellence in client service in 2017 demonstrate that he or she is among the very best in the field."

We express our gratitude to our clients and friend for entrusting us with their most relevant and sophisticated matters. It is an honor and a privilege to work with you.

Sincerely,

Von Wobeser & Sierra, S.C.

Mexico City, February 12th, 2018.